GRAYOT NAMED STATE DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN MANAGER

The fight to carry Kentucky for Cox and Beckman this fall will be managed by J. L. Grayot, Madisonville attorney, who was elected campaign chairman by the Democratic State Central and Executive committees at a joint meeting held at State headquarters in the Seelbach Hotel, Louisville.

Selection of Mr. Grayot as manager was made after Senator Beckman appeared before members of the joint committees and made known his preference. Senator Beckman was called before the committee for a speech, in the course of which he outlined plans for the campaign.

Senator Beckman explained to members of the committee that while he had nothing against anyone whose name has been mentioned for campaign chairman, Mr. Grayot impressed him as being the most available man for the place. He said Mr. Grayot is a man on whom all factions of the party can unite.

Organization work of the campaign was left to Mr. Grayot, who will have for his assistant Senator Seldon Glenn, re-elected for the fourth time as secretary of the campaign committee. Mr. Grayot announced following his election that systematic work of perfecting a state-wide organization would begin at once.

The campaign organization will include publicity, speakers, finance and women's work. The women, while not represented, will be given a large share in the campaign, if plans of the leaders are put into effect.

L. & N. CHANGES.

Effective August 1, several changes will take place in the personnel of the office force in the local L. & N. freight office. J. M. Smelzer will take a responsible clerical position with E. F. Spears & Sons. Leo Keller will go to Lexington, where he will take a fine position with the S. A. Glass Co., who operate a chain of mercantile stores.

In parting with Keller and Smelzer the L. & N. is losing two valuable men, while their new employers are to be congratulated upon securing the services of these capable young business men. Their successors have not yet been named, though a large number of applications have been filed with General Agent W. V. Shaw.

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR DELEGATES

A special train was run over the L. & N. Monday from Paris to Carrollton for the purpose of carrying delegates home from the colored convention held there. The attendance was estimated between 500 and 600, coming from various parts of the State.

COL. EZEKIEL F. CLAY DEAD

Death Summons Comes To Noted Bourbon Turfman And Citizen

The inevitable summons, to which all must respond, the trumpet call of the Grim Messenger, came Monday night at nine o'clock, to Col. Ezekiel Fields Clay, aged eighty, citizen, soldier and a man among men, at his home on the Cynthiana road, near Paris. Col. Clay has been in declining health for several months, but had been able to be up and about until a few days ago, when he contracted pneumonia, which was the immediate cause of his death.

The funeral was held at the family home, Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, with services conducted by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church, of which Col. Clay had for almost a lifetime been a devoted member. The burial followed on the family lot in the Paris Cemetery, in the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives, and many of his comrades-in-arms, who had followed him in the days of the war.

The pall-bearers were: Honorary J. Harry Holt, Catesby Woodford, Benjamin Woodford, T. Hart Talbott, James F. McClure and Wm. T. Buckner; Active — S. Brooks Clay, Catesby W. Spears, Zeio Davenport, Ayelette Buckner, Buckner Woodford, Samuel Clay, John F. Davis, Ezekiel Arnold, John Harris Clay and Cassius M. Clay.

Col. Clay, who was one of the worthy representative citizens of Bourbon county, descended from an ancestry of which he felt justly proud, various representatives of the family figuring prominently in the public affairs in Virginia and Kentucky. The name has honorably adorned many pages of American history, and Col. Clay's forebears were men of noted mental caliber, rare versatility and extraordinary executive ability. He was born in Bourbon county the first day of December, 1840, and was the son of Hon. Brutus J. and Amanda (Field) Clay.

Col. Clay, after due preliminary educational training in the public school of his native county, entered

Bacon College, Harrodsburg, and was pursuing his studies in that institution when the dark cloud of the Civil War cast its pall over a dividing nation. On October 21, he left the University to enter the Confederate service, enlisting as a private in the First Kentucky Mounted Rifles. He was in active service during the succeeding fall and winter, under General Humphrey Marshall in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky and Western Virginia.

Col. Clay then organized a new company, of which he was elected Captain early in 1862, and was promoted to Lieutenant-Colonel in the First Battalion. He continued in General Marshall's command throughout 1862, and commanding his battalion, was actively engaged during the Federal raid on the Hinds River, near Abingdon, in the winter of 1862-63. The following months were passed in raids and skirmishes of minor importance until September, when Col. Clay led his battalion, under the brigade command of General Hodge, under General Forrest, in the operation following the battle of Chickamauga and on the thirtieth started out in the vicinity of Athens, Tenn., for McMinnville, as a part of the forces of General Wheeler, in the famous raid through middle Tennessee.

His battalion was advance guard of the brigade, and accompanied by General Davidson, the division commander, opened the attack on McMinnville, October 3, and drove the enemy from the rifle pits. When the brigade came up the garrison surrendered with several million dollars' worth of stores and provision.

Col. Clay was also in the lead of an attack on Shelbyville, when General Wheeler was defeated. Following this Clay and his soldiers fought in the rear guard, determinedly resisting the Federal pursuers and suffered great losses. Said General Hodge: "For five hours and a half over seven miles of country an unequal contest continued. My gallant brigade was cut to pieces and slaughtered. I had informed the officers and men that the sacrifice of their lives was necessary and they manfully made the sacrifice." In this memorable fight Col. Clay's horse was killed under him. Immediately securing another mount he was severely wounded while gallantly commanding his battalion. During the Knoxville campaign he was with a regiment in Armstrong's division and was on active duty in East Tennessee. In April, 1864, at Piney Creek, near Paintville, Ky., in command of his brigade he encountered a brigade of the enemy and had the misfortune to be again wounded, a rifle ball destroying the sight of one of his eyes. At the same time he was captured, and being taken to Johnson's Island, O., was held there until a short time before the surrender of General Lee, when he was paroled by order of President Lincoln, and permitted to return to his old home in Bourbon county.

Since the war Col. Clay was actively engaged in stock raising and the breeding of thoroughbred horses on his fine estate, known as Runnymede, on the Paris and Cynthiana Pike. On the organization of the

ADJUDGED INSANE

In the County Court, Tuesday, Benjamin Franklin Holder, aged about fifty, was given a hearing before Judge George Batterson in lunacy proceedings. After hearing the testimony of physicians and others, the jury adjudged him to be of unsound mind and ordered his confinement in the Eastern Kentucky Insane Hospital, at Lexington, where he was taken Wednesday morning by an attendant.

Holder became insane over the acquisition of real estate. He claimed that he owned one-tenth of the whole world, and that the end of all things terrestrial would be a matter of but a short time. He wanted to dispose of his one-tenth interest, but could find no takers, all the real estate men being away on important business of their own.

Holder, who is a traveling evangelist, approached Deputy Sheriff Robt. M. Gilkey, while the North Middletown Chautauqua was in progress and protested the Chautauqua, stating that such things were of no value and ought to be discouraged. He told Mr. Gilkey that he (Holder) had until a few weeks ago owned the entire world, by a special dispensation from Heaven, but that it was too big a task to keep it going, and he had given it all away except a one-tenth interest. Mr. Gilkey soothed him and persuaded him to accompany him to Paris, where he was held until an examination into his mental condition was made by physicians.

MAIN STREET REPAIRS UNDER WAY.

After a long season of waiting, a force of workmen began much-needed repairs Wednesday on Main street between Sixth and Seventh. The defective parts of the material are being taken up, and will be replaced by new material, rolled in. During the reconstruction work the block is closed to traffic.

The Carlisle Mercury hands us this little verbal brick, thrown at a long range, but coming close to hitting the bullseye: "Well, well! They have finally fixed up 'No Man's Land,' between the covered bridge and the court house at Paris. About 1936, perhaps, they will throw a few rocks in the trenches and shell craters that constitute the highway out in front of the cemetery."

OLD-TIME CAKE WALK AT K. OF C. PICNIC

A grand cake walk will be one of the features of the K. of C. picnic, Wednesday, August 4th. Come out and spend the day.

Bourbon Bank of Paris, Col. Clay was made its president and he was an able and popular incumbent of this office until 1909, when he resigned. He served for several years as President of the Kentucky Racing Association, the oldest turf organization in America. In politics he was aligned as a loyal supporter of the principles of the Democratic party, and contributed in generous measures to the civil and material advancement of his home county and State at large. He was a man of mentality and broad humanitarnism. His genial kindness won him a host of friends. In a fraternal way he was affiliated with various representative and social and fraternal organizations.

In 1867 Col. Clay began the breeding of Shorthorns, which he continued most successfully until 1875. Following that period he entered into a partnership with the late George Bowen, former Sheriff of Bourbon county, in the breeding of thoroughbred horses. At Mr. Bowen's death he formed a partnership with Catesby Woodford, and together they established the famous Runnymede Stud. From this stud came Miss Woodford, Hanover, Imp. Billet, Hindoo, Six Dixon, Jacomet (sister of the great Iroquois), and many other kings and queens of the turf. From the Runnymede Stud was sold to Dwyer Bros., Houston, a full brother to Hanover, for $3,200, which at that time was the highest price ever paid for a two-year-old. As Col. Clay was in the thoroughbred business for love of the horse, his strict integrity and high moral character enabled him to bring about many turf reforms, and numerous laws passed for the regulation of racing on the American tracks have been prompted by his efforts to keep up the standard of racing. It is doubtful if there was a more widely known or more popular breeder of thoroughbred horses in America.

On May 8, 1866, Col. Clay married Miss Mary L. Woodford, a daughter of John T. and Elizabeth Buckner Woodford. This union was prolific of six children—Ezekiel F. Clay, Jr., Woodford Clay, Brutus Clay, Jr., Buckner Clay, Amelia F. Clay and Mary C. Clay. Mrs. Clay was summoned to her eternal rest on August 8, 1900. On the 17th of June, 1920, Col. Clay wedded Mrs. Florence Kelly Lockhart, widow of the late George C. Lockhart, and daughter of Rev. Samuel and Mary Kelly. Mrs. Clay is a woman of most gracious personality and is deeply beloved by all who have come within the sphere of her gentle influence.

COUNCIL BOOSTS THE CITY TAX RATE.

$20 AND COSTS FOR SHOOTIN' CRAPS

The Lexington Leader of Tuesday afternoon had the following sensational story in which well-known Paris men figured. The Leader says: "Craps" were sounded in police court to-day for four young men, who were arrested shortly before 2 o'clock this morning in the Central Hotel by Patrolmen E. Jacobs and Barker, on a charge of gambling, the specific allegation being a 'crap' game was in progress. Three of the quartet pleaded guilty and Judge Riley imposed a fine of $20 and costs. A fourth, whom his companions said was in the game, was given a similar fine. He denied his guilt, however.

Those fined were registered at police headquarters as follows: L. P. Duval, 27, Louisville; H. M. Bridges, 27, Paris; A. Goldberg, 24, Paris, and J. H. Moran, 33, Paris. Patrolman Barker testified a complaint was made by the hotel that gambling was in progress in Room 7, and that the occupants had failed to register.

"The man registered as Goldberg was late in arriving and his companions had stated he was in the game. He denied the allegation, however, upon his arrival. Two others caught in the raid were dismissed as the testimony showed they were merely spectators."

CALL FOR TOBACCO GROWERS' MEETING.

To The Tobacco Growers of Bourbon County:

A meeting of the Tobacco Growers was held in Carrollton, Ky., Saturday, July 24, 1920. The meeting was largely attended, over five hundred growers present, seven counties being well represented. At this meeting it was decided to call a mass meeting at Lexington, Ky., for Wednesday, August 4, 1920, of all the counties in the Burley District for the purpose of fully discussing its production and planting a larger acreage of corn, wheat and other foodstuffs. We urgently request that all the counties in the district send a delegation to this meeting, as this is not a one man's proposition and nothing can be accomplished only through co-operation of all growers of tobacco.

If you are interested in such a movement and for the betterment of your county, meet us in Lexington, August 4.

REPUBLICAN SPEAKERS IN CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAMS

Announcement came from Governor Cox that the Democrats would make a special effort to have their cause presented before Chautauquas throughout the country.

"We are going to watch the Chautauquas very closely," said Governor Cox. "We feel sure that a large army of Republican speakers will be filtered into the Chautauquas."

There also was issued from the Governor's office a statement declaring that Republicans had 15,000 Chautauqua speakers engaged at $30 a day and that the Democrats would attempt to offset this move by securing volunteer Democratic orators. The statement further said that the Democratic management "would not attempt to compete in money" with the Republicans.

FATHER OF DAYLIGHT SAVING DIES IN CINCINNATI

E. H. Murdock, prominent in Cincinnati's business and club life, and said to be the father of the "more day-light" movement in America, died at Baltimore a few hours after having undergone an operation at the Johns Hopkins Hospital there. He was 58 years old. Mr. Murdock was the first president of the first more day-light association formed in this country. It was organized at Cincinnati about 16 years ago, and he secured nation-wide recognition as the leader in this movement and as an expert in all knowledge pertaining to it.

NEWSPRINT HAS ADVANCED 500 PER CENT SINCE 1915

A current report of the Government Forest service says that the larger newspaper publishers of the country have been able to keep down the advance in cost of their newsprint to about 200 per cent, because of their ability to contract in large volume. But the market price, according to the bulletin, has advanced 500 per cent since 1915. It is at this price that the small publisher is compelled to buy his paper stock.

Primarily the reason for the advance in paper is due to a wood shortage. In early days the paper mills were built in the lumber regions and their pulp wood was a sort of by-product of the saw mill industry. But in most of these regions the saw mills have finished, and they have packed up, burned out, or moved away for some other reason. But the paper mill cannot play the part of "carpet bagger" quite so easily, and as a result the United States has become largely dependent upon Canadian wood. Spruce from Minnesota and Canada, for example, is being hauled for 700 to 1,200 miles to Wisconsin paper mills. In New York State, where nearly fifty per cent of our newsprint paper is produced, sixty per cent of the pulp and paper mills have absolutely no timber supplies of their own. New Hampshire and Maine appear to be the only Eastern States that still have raw materials for making paper, and there is a well-grounded suspicion in the paper trade that the day of profiteering in spruce, hemlock balsam and poplar is pretty well under way.

The big papers, in any event, are certainly eating up the little ones, and their "funny sheets," magazine sections and other irrelevant features add to the tragedy of the proceedings.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

In response to the request of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, a five-day course in Citizenship was given by the University of Kentucky ending Friday, July 25, the course being given as a feature of the Summer Session. The course was under the general direction of Dr. Edward Tuthill, head of the Department of History and Political Economy at the University. Various departments of History and Political Economy at the University were drawn upon to participate in the program. In addition to Doctor Tuthill, addresses were given by President Frank L. McVey, Dr. Edward Wiest, Dr. J. S. Cleveland, Mrs. Frank L. McVey and Professor Geo. M. Baker.

The opening address given by President McVey on the subject, "What Is Citizenship," set forth very clearly the rights and duties of citizenship to the State and National governments.

A helpful feature was introduced in the preparation of outlines and syllabi on the various topics presented; these being given to those in attendance for future reference and study. The papers and lectures presented were practical and full of interest to those in attendance. The women eagerly took part in the general discussions provided and much interest was manifested. There was a practical demonstration of the use of ballots in an election, a simple election being held in which the women participated.

WHAT ONE HEN DID.

(Franklin Favorite)

Misses Annie May and Blanche Bell, granddaughters of M. N. Perkins, are enthusiastic poultry breeders and own a fine collection of White Leghorns. When little girls they took a fancy to poultry raising, beginning with one hen. In October of last year one hen of the flock began laying and has continually added an egg a day to the basket. With ten months to her credit and at the prices received for eggs, this White Leghorn hen has not only paid for her own keep, but that of a number of her running mates as well. But the remarkable part of the industry is reached when our readers are told that with chicken money they have paid for a splendid Jersey cow, have a balance to their credit in the bank and in addition money at interest.

CANTRILL PREDICTS VICTORY

Declaring his belief in a sweeping victory in the nation for Governor James M. Cox and the entire Democratic ticket, Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill returned to Kentucky, Tuesday, to wage his fight for re-election in the Seventh district, after having been absent for more than a month working in the interest of Governor Cox's candidacy for the Presidency.

Mr. Cantrill announced his determination to make a thorough canvass of the district between this time and the primary election Aug. 7, reminding his friends of the opposition to his nomination, which he said, seemingly has been overlooked in many sections.

The platform adopted at San Francisco is one of the greatest ever accredited to the Democratic party, in Mr. Cantrill's opinion. "It's one that will appeal to all patriotic people, regardless of their political affiliation. As a candidate I am standing squarely on that platform and fighting for it," he declared.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

The Elizabeth News says it is a platform "which will satisfy all reasonable Democrats and will make votes for the party." The more one reads it, the more clearly this appears; and if one will but compare it, section by section, thought with thought, and underlying spirit, thus drawing out all the venom and hatred of the one and the forward looking purpose of the other, the more irrefutable does the conclusion of Colonel Summers appear.

BOURBON TOBACCO "RUSTY"

Tobacco growers of Bourbon county are disturbed over the reported presence of "rust" or "wildfire" in some places where crops have been grown.

According to reports from Dr. Valneau and Prof. W. R. Elliott, of the Agricultural Experiment Station of Kentucky University, "rust" or "wildfire" has been found in a forty-acre patch of tobacco belonging to J. D. Gay, near Clintonville. They estimate that the crop has been damaged to the extent of $10,000 or $15,000. The investigation in this county has been limited, and it is possible that other tobacco crops in the county will be found infected as the investigation progresses.

Investigations made so far indicate the infection is caused by two distinct disease. One is what is commonly known as rust, bacterial infection, which usually hits tobacco about cutting time. This year, however, it has made its appearance several weeks previous, and just what effect it will have on the plants cannot be determined as yet. When the disease attacks the leaves near cutting time, the tobacco can be cut and the damage is only slight.

The other disease bears a close resemblance to "wild fire," a bacterial disease which has been doing much damage in North Carolina for the last year. So far as Experiment Station experts have been able to determine, this is the first appearance of the disease in Kentucky.

Dr. Valneau is devoting all his time to an investigation and study of the infections, but as yet no remedy has been discovered.

Since both of the diseases are bacterial infections, they are spread by the wind and rain from leaf to leaf, experts say. It has been noticed that the side of the leaf on the side from which the rain is coming is the worst affected.

APPELLATE COURT SUSTAINS BOURBON COURT DECISION

Another chapter was written in the contention between the people of Millersburg, the Millersburg Military Institute and the Bourbon County Board of Education, Tuesday. The Court held that the Board of Education had the right to purchase the M. M. I. property for High School purposes. Judge Robt. L. Stout, in the Bourbon Circuit acting on a case brought before him, in which the Millersburg people sought by injunction proceedings to annul the sale of the M. M. I. property, refused to grant the injunction.

For twenty-seven years Col. and Mrs. C. M. Best have conducted the school at Millersburg as the Millersburg Military Institute. Some time ago Col. Best, after a long spell of illness, desired to retire, and offered the M. M. I. property to the Board of Education for $40,000, the Board accepting and closing the deal. The citizens of Millersburg, desiring to retain the property in its original state as the M. M. I., offered the county $7,000 profit in cash or its equivalent in seven acres of desirably-located land on which to erect the contemplated County High School. The Board refused the proposition and the injunction suit was filed, after an indignation mass meeting had been held by the citizens. Judge Stout refused the order, and the case was carried to the higher Court. County Attorney Cline and Talbott & Whitley represented the Board of Education in the litigation.

BURGLARS VISIT CAFE

Burglars visited the cafe and restaurant of Grant Owlesy, at Main and Seventh, Wednesday night or at an early hour yesterday morning. They effected an entrance by piling boxes and barrels on the side street, climbing to a lower shed and cutting the wire netting covering a rear window. Three cash registers were rifled of their contents, about $20, which had been left as a nest egg for the following day's business. Nothing else was missing. The burglar even appropriated a tumbler full of pennies, which had been left on a shelf. The police were notified.

WANT AUGUST 4 MADE A CITY HOLIDAY.

A number of Paris business men have offered the suggestion that it would be a nice compliment to the local Council Knights of Columbus if our worthy Mayor, Mr. E. B. January, would issue an official proclamation, asking the merchants of the city to close their places of business on Wednesday, August 4, and give their employees a chance to attend the big picnic to be given by the order.

THE NEWS is in hearty accord with the suggestion. The Knights of Columbus locally is composed of the best citizenship of the city and county, all public-spirited men, and as the picnic is to be given for a very worthy cause it would be a nice thing to have the day, or at least the afternoon, made a holiday, in order that the clerks and workmen of the city could have the time off. The gentlemen who made the suggestion to THE NEWS are business men of the highest standing, who intend to give their employees that afternoon off, and they would like to see others equally as fortunate. Let's go!

TWO CARS OF "JOY."

For several hours Wednesday two big steel express cars stood in the Louisville & Nashville yard, near the Tenth street passenger station, in this city. The cars were innocent in appearance, but when the news became handed around that they were loaded with the product that had made Kentucky famous (long ago!) they took on an added interest, and many wistful eyes were turned toward them.

The cars, which were loaded with whisky were in charge of Special Agent C. B. Dooley, of Frankfort. One car was consigned to a Cynthiana wholesale firm, the other for a New York house. Both consignments came from W. A. Gaines & Co., at Frankfort. They went forward to their destination Wednesday night.

WHISKY WAS SIDETRACKED

(Commercial Tribune)

Whisky thefts from railroads have become so extensive that the railroad managers have been compelled to devise means to stop the robbery. The result is that no more whisky is shipped in freight trains. When a car containing whisky is accepted by the railroads now it is sandwiched between an express car and a coach on a regular passenger train and hurried to its destination. As soon as the train reaches a Northern Kentucky terminal six railroad detectives take charge of the car containing the whisky. Whisky was stolen in a peculiar way. The shipping tag was torn from the car and a "hold" card attached, causing the car to be shunted on a sidetrack near the Licking River. The whisky was then hauled away in an automobile. The "hold" card on a car would indicate that the car must be taken out of the train for repairs of defects.

COWGIRL TAMES WILD MULE AT HARRODSBURG

Sam Babhart, well-known Salt River farmer, has a mule that is untamable, and no one has ever been able to straddle him successfully.

A cow girl named Annie Shaw blew into Harrodsburg and "narrated" it abroad that she could ride any animal living. Sam brought her cranky mule to town and dared her to try it. Annie took the dare and staged a free exhibit on Broadway that drew a big crowd of spectators. It took four men to get a saddle on the mule and hold him while Annie was assisted to her perilous position.

The fancy bucks and capers that mule tried was a delight to the onlookers, but fair Annie stuck to her seat until finally the obstinate bridle gave up and when she dismounted followed her about like Mafry's little lamb. The crowd took up a collection and gave the equestrienne ten dollars.

SWIFT & CO.'S WEEKLY PRODUCE MARKET REPORT

Deliveries of cream are holding up well for the season of the year, and as good pasture conditions are reported, there is every indication of continued production.

Prices of butterfat are higher than a year ago, but there has been little change from previous week.

Heavy importations of Danish butter have arrived at Eastern seaboard points within the last ten days.

A seasonable movement of poultry is reported and prices on fowl are generally reported a little higher. Some increases in the marketing of young chickens has been noted, which is usual at this season of the year. These light chickens are generally being placed on feed and each week is expected to show an increase in the marketing.

The supply of eggs has been sufficient for current requirements and there has been no marked change in the price situation.

OLDEST WOMAN IN KENTUCKY DEAD.

Death, resulting from injuries suffered in a fall several weeks ago, removed a unique character who was probably the oldest native woman of Kentucky. In her 107th year, Mrs. Eliza Jordan, smoker of a corn cob pipe since girlhood, widow of a Mexican War veteran, and descendant of an Indian chief, died at the City Hospital, in Louisville.

Mrs. Jordan came of a family noted for its longevity. Her grandfather, a full-blooded Indian, son of a tribe chieftain, who assumed the name of David Wilson, died at the age of 107 years, leaving 47 children, 44 of whom were boys. Her father, Thomas Wilson, lived 102 years.

Mrs. Jordan was a native of Carroll county. She talked interestingly of pioneer days. The Indian blood which coursed through her veins persisted in the lines of her face. Her straight nose, stern features and straight hair showed her origin.

Don't experiment with something new and untried.

Use a tested kidney remedy.

A Paris citizen's statement forms convincing proof.

It's local testimony—it can be investigated.

Mrs. Chas. McCord, South Pleasant street, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney pills at different times, getting them from Oberdorfer's Drug Store and I have found them a splendid kidney medicine. Whenever my kidneys have acted irregularly or my back has been weak and lame, I have found a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills sufficient to cure me of the attack."

EXPERIMENT STATION HOGS EAT SUDAN GRASS

A long-felt need for a hog pasture crop for late summer when other pasture crops are not available may be filled by the Sudan grass. When Sudan grass is sown early a hay crop can be cut in the first part of July and the second growth used for hog pasture. This year Sudan grass sown in May was nearly waist high on the Kentucky Experiment Station farm, July 1. It was a small area, but was grown on rich land.

Hogs were turned in on one Experiment Station plot about the middle of June and they ate it down in preference to rape. They were taken off when the stand was hogged and the grass has sprouted up nicely again, despite the dry condition of the soil.

Agronomists do not give unqualified recommendation to Sudan grass because of this short trial, but they see no reason why it would not fill the need. Hogs should be ringed before turning into a Sudan grass pasture or they will injure the stand by rooting.

Blue polka-dot neckties are mere man's latest fashion craze. New York haberdashers reported that the demand for dotted blue "bat wings" eclipsed any run in recent years. The craze is due, they declare, to newspaper photographs which show Sir Thomas Lipton, the famous Englishman, and Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican candidate, wearing the tidy "bat wings."

Buick Valve-In-Head Success

The Buick Valve-In-Head motor car's sales record each season is a good example of the confidence and prestige that the world's buyers have placed in Buick quality and manufacture.

The famous Buick policies and principles of twenty years ago still remain intact in Buick construction. They have stood the test of years of constant operation. Naturally the quality, endurance and economy which has been so essential to over five hundred thousand Buick owners in the past is now eagerly sought for by thousands of future motor car purchasers.

Today the Buick Valve-In-Head built by the pioneer builders of Valve-In-Head motor cars stand pre-eminently before the entire motor car field as "first choice" among motor car buyers.

Women Who Suffer

Should find relief from their sufferings by taking the woman's Temperance Tonic and Nervine, which has helped so many women, some of them right in your neighborhood. When the household cares and the worries of everyday life have dragged you down, made you unhappy, and there is nothing in life but headache, backache and worry, turn to the right prescription; one gotten up by Dr. Pierce fifty years ago, which has helped many thousands of women in this country. It is called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and can be had in every drug store in the land, in tablet or liquid form.

FRANKFORT, KY.—"After motherhood I had such miserable health for two years that I could not get around to do my own housework, most of the time I had to keep to my bed. My back ached and my nerves were in a terrible state. I doctored and took every medicine that was recommended to me, but it was not until I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription that I located the right medicine, and it very promptly relieved every symptom of feminine trouble, and eventually restored me to perfect health." Mrs. DRUZY MERRIWETHER, No. 868 Wilkerson Street.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Dr. Frederick Jacobson says that phosphates are just as essential to any woman who tires easily, is nervous or irritable, worn out or looks haggard and pale, to make a strong, robust, vigorous, healthy body, as they are to make corn, wheat or any vegetable plant grow strong and healthy. The lack of phosphates is the cause of all anemic conditions and the administration of 5-grain Argo-Phosphate Tablets will increase the strength and endurance 500% in a few weeks time in many instances. FORCED TO GIVE UP HER POSITION

Was Victim of Nervous Indigestion
Many Months Before Taking Taniac.

"If I should be asked to name the best medicine in the world," said Miss Hattie Weilmann, 2505 Micklen avenue, Cincinnati, O., "I would not hesitate to say Taniac, for it has not only relieved me of a case of nervous indigestion that kept me in misery for a year or more, but has built me up from one hundred and thirty-two pounds to one hundred and fifty-two."

"I suffered such awful pains from indigestion and often became so nervous that I would just lie down and cry. I could not get any sound sleep at all, and no one will ever know how terribly I suffered. I was under treatment all the time, but got no relief until a friend of mine got me to try Taniac, and after taking it for about two months I had realized a complete recovery. Before taking Taniac I was compelled to give up my position down town. Now I am feeling just fine, eat anything I want with never a touch of indigestion and sleep like a child every night. To say I am thankful to my friend who got me to try Taniac, and to the people who made it, for the return of my health is putting it entirely too mild. I am more grateful than words can tell and earnestly recommend Taniac to anyone suffering as I did."

HOG CATCHES FISH; FISH CATCH SKETERS!

Perry Davis, a wealthy farmer near Columbus, Ind., has a hog that goes fishing each day, according to its owner, and catches itself a mess of fish. The hog crawls through a barbed wire fence, goes to a nearby bayou and wades into the water in search of fish. Davis says the hog never fails to catch enough fish for a mess for itself and eats them as fast as it catches them.

Dr. J. A. Phelps, county health officer, at Hickman, Ky., is stocking mosquito-breeding bodies of water in Fulton county with Gambusia fish. These little fish, furnished by the United States Health department, are from an inch to two inches long when grown. They have been of great benefit to the State of Mississippi in war on the malaria mosquito. They thrive and propagate in still water.

Smith has a car and is very proud of it. But the neighbors are rather scornful about Smith's car. Perhaps they are jealous.

Anyhow, the other day he drove to an adjacent garage and asked the man there what was the best thing to do with it.

The garage man looked the car over in silence for several minutes, after which he grasped the horn and tooted it.

"You've got a good horn there," he remarked quietly. "Suppose you jack it up and run a new car under it!"

MILLERSBURG

Regular meeting of Amity Lodge No. 49, F. & A. M. Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Dimmitt returned Tuesday from a ten-days' sojourn at Swango Spring.

Mrs. Martha T. Vimont and daughter, Miss Florence Vimont, left Tuesday for a week's visit to Mrs. W. A. Munising, at Maysville.

Misses Natilee Shannon and Katherine Jones returned Wednesday after a several weeks' visit to Mrs. Frank Moore, at Lexington, Virginia.

Our town and community was shocked early Wednesday morning when it learned that Mr. S. M. Allen, Cashier of the Farmers Bank, had been stricken sometime in the night with paralysis. During the day Tuesday, Mr. Allen was apparently in good health. Tuesday evening he went to the picture theatre and on retiring Tuesday night he seemed in the best of health.

About 5:00 a. m. Wednesday, Mrs. Allen was awakened and noticed he was breathing peculiarly and seemed to be restless. She attempted to arouse him and was startled when she found he was in a serious condition. Drs. Boxley, of Millersburg, and Daugherty, of Paris, were hastily summoned. His right side was paralyzed, and at this writing he is speechless, though he shows signs of returning consciousness.

Since childhood, Mr. Allen has been affected with a bad heart, and on a number of occasions has been compelled to go to bed for several weeks at a time. However, for some time his condition seemed rather good, and his present affliction came without warning. The only members of his family at home were his wife and eldest daughter, Miss Marguerite Allen. His son, Mr. Julian Allen, was spending the night at the home of his uncle, Mr. L. R. Rogers, and family, and his youngest daughter, Miss Bush Allen, was visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ephriam Wood, at Stanford.

Allen's immediate relatives were notified of his condition early in the morning. Mr. L. R. Rogers and family, Mr. Julian Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Alverson, of Paris, came early in the morning. Miss Bush Allen arrived in the afternoon, accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. Wood, and aunt, Miss Sue Wood. He is now being cared for by Miss Wood, who is popular as a nurse, and has nursed in the Allen home before.

HOLDING SUCCESSFUL MEETING

Mrs. M. J. Baton, of Maysville, Sidney Harrison, of Louisville, and E. B. Towles, of Paris, were presented with the awards for a certain type of work in English. The term will end to-night with a pageant representing the entire work of the course. An admission fee of thirty-five cents will be charged; the proceeds to be devoted to educational purposes.

T. WAT HARDIN DIES IN VIRGINIA

FRANKFORT, KY., July 27.—Funeral services for Parker Watkins Hardin, 79 years old, former Attorney General of Kentucky and Democratic candidate for Governor in 1895, who died of pneumonia Saturday in Richmond, Va., were held at the Frankfort Cemetery Chapel, Monday morning, at 11 o'clock.

The train was met by many friends in this and Mercer County, and State officials attended the services. Pall-bearers were: A. Macklin, R. K. McClure, John C. Noel, W. P. Scott, George A. Lewis and J. L. Cox.

P. Wait Hardin, as he was generally known, was for many years a Democratic leader in Kentucky. He was born in Adair County in 1841, the son of Judge Parker C. Hardin, an attorney, with whom he read law. He married Mary Sallee of Wayne County, who died many years ago.

His first public office was City Attorney of Danville. He was elected Attorney General in 1879 and re-elected for three terms. In 1891 he was defeated for Governor by John Young Brown. He was the Democratic candidate for Governor in 1895, being defeated by William O. Bradley, the first Republican Governor of the State.

Mr. Hardin was one of the three candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor, which finally was won by William J. Goebel, in 1899. He had been in retirement practically since that time, making his home in Williamsburg, Ky.

In his first race against William O. Bradley he made an ineffectual effort to harmonize the warring Democratic factions on the monetary question. Known as a free silver man, Mr. Hardin was nominated on a gold platform.

Mr. Hardin was noted as an orator. He entered into an agreement with Mr. Bradley for twenty joint debates during their campaign, but following their third meeting in Eminence, Mr. Hardin withdrew, refusing to participate in further debate.

He was an uncle of Judge Chas. A. Harding, of Harrodsburg, chairman of the Democratic State Central and Exchange Committees, and of E. M. Hardin, of Harrodsburg.

He is survived by a son, the Rev. Martin D. Hardin; three daughters, Mrs. William Harris, of Richmond, Va.; Dr. Mary Hardin, of Philadelphia; and a daughter living in Boston; a brother, Ben Lee Hardin, of Harrodsburg, and a sister, Mrs. Sophia McBrayer, of Louisville.

Death came at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Harris, in Richmond, Va.

The body reached Frankfort, Tuesday, from Richmond, Va., and was taken immediately to the cemetery chapel where brief services were held. The Rev. Martin D. Hardin, son of the deceased, spoke at the services, recounting his father's career from the time he entered the political world up to his retirement from politics.

The pall-bearers were: A. W. Macklin, John C. Noel, W. P. Scott, George A. Lewis and J. L. Cox.
